- Extending eligibility to anyone on tax credits or housing benefit and all under 18s.
- Not placing a limit on the number of children who can qualify.

- Taking applications on the phone and on-line as well as on a paper form, to give a choice depending on the needs of the client.
- No longer requiring health professionals to sign the form to evidence pregnancy. We will use baby box data to verify pregnancy or other evidence such as the MATB1 form if the applicant has not had a baby box.

Job Start Payment

From 2020.

- Moving into work after being unemployed for a long period can be hard for young people.

 - Care leavers will be eligible for Job Start earlier, as soon as they are in receipt of a qualifying benefit (rather than after 6 months).
 - Care leavers will also be eligible for one year longer than other young people (until their 26th birthday).
 - The proposals in the consultation are dependent on securing agreement with the UK Government

Medical Assessments

Assessments are currently required for Disability Living Allowance, Attendance Allowance and Personal Independence Payment.

We will begin to take new claims for Disability Assistance for Children and Young People in summer 2020.

The Cabinet Secretary made an announcement in September 2018 that committed to the following:

- We will seek to reduce the need for face to face assessments as much as possible;
- Under the Scottish Government system clients will be given greater choice and control over their assessment.
- Clients will be invited at a time that suits them, to a location that suits them and for those with difficulty travelling, the assessor will come to them.
- Audio recordings of all assessments will be standard.

Scottish Child Payment

From 2020.

- Low income families will be able to apply for a new £10 a week payment for every child aged 0-6 for applications in autumn 2020, with the first payments reaching families by Christmas. It will be rolled out in full to eligible families by the end of 2022.
 - Once fully rolled out, the benefit could help up to 410,000 eligible under 16's and lift 30,000 children out of poverty.

Equality Outcomes consultation

- The consultation on our draft equality outcomes opened 7th November 2019 and we are seeking people's views.
 - These outcomes will set out the practical steps we will take to ensure we are treating all groups of people in Scotland fairly.
 - We are asking our clients and stakeholders for their thoughts to make sure that the outcomes are right for a new and growing organisation.
 - We also want to make sure that the outcomes are clear and measurable.
 - The consultation closes on Thursday 6th February 2020.
