

CIVIC GOVERNMENT (SCOTLAND) ACT 1982 (as amended)

Risk Assessment form

General information for the organiser

We are asking you to fill in this risk assessment form to help us understand what dangers and risks might be associated with holding your event. This form will take you through the most common areas of risk, which both the Council and the Police might want to raise with you. The Council and the Police will carry out our own assessment of risk and may want to discuss our assessment with you before any meeting is held or at the first meeting itself.

When a risk assessment may not be needed

We will tell you if you do not need to fill in this risk assessment form. You may not need to carry out a risk assessment, for example, if we consider that your procession is routine or it has already been decided that the procession will carry little to no risk.

Purpose of filling in the risk assessment form

A risk assessment of the procession will help to:

- identify any dangers associated with holding it;
- evaluate the level of any known risks;
- decide who is at risk and in what way and how the risk to them could be got rid of; and
- decide, where other types of risk have been identified, whether it would be possible to introduce appropriate measures to allow the procession to go ahead.

Who should complete this form

It would be preferable if you were a suitably qualified person (e.g. someone who is trained in health and safety regulations). If that is not possible, someone else in the organisation with a strong knowledge of the area where the march is to be held should fill it in. Once filled in, you should send the form, with the notification form, to the contact named at the end of this form. That person will then check the form and compare it to the assessment of risk which the Council and the Police will be carrying out.

How to fill in the form

You should work your way through the form section by section. If there are parts to sections which you cannot fill in, you should contact the person named at the end of the form. If your overall assessment shows that there is a high risk associated with holding the procession, you should get in touch with the person named at the end of the form as soon as possible to discuss if we can find solutions to reduce or remove the risk. Once we have considered the notifications, the risk assessment and all other evidence, we may contact you to hold a meeting.

Who you should send the form to

You should send your risk assessment form, with your notification form, to the people named at the end of this form at least 28 days before you plan to hold a procession. Our contact details appear on the notification form and at the end of this form. If you cannot send your risk assessment with the notification, you should speak to the local authority contact named at the end of this form for advice.

Next steps

We will assess the risks associated with holding your procession within the first two weeks of us receiving your notification and risk assessment forms. You should remember to keep a copy of this form for your records and bring it with you for any meeting which we may hold. This is because the Council and the police may want to raise issues with you about how your assessment compares to our assessment. In case there are problems, we may need further meetings.

Section 1

Your name, address and contact details

Section 2

Main risk assessment

The table in this section sets out the main areas of the risk assessment. You should provide as many supporting comments as you can.

Questions:- You must provide supporting comments in the boxes below

Is the date of your procession particularly significant to the organisation?

Has your organisation marched along the same route before?

Are there enough trained stewards to control the number of marchers expected?

Have there been any difficulties or tensions in the recent past with holding this procession?

Please assess the level of risk there may be to public safety.
(Please also say whether the risk is low, medium or high.)

Please assess any risk to public safety.
(Please also say whether the risk is low, medium or high.)

Main risk assessment

Please assess any risk to public order.
(Please also say whether the risk is low, medium or high.)

Please assess the risk of damage to property.
(Please also say whether the risk is low, medium or high.)

Please assess the risk of disruption to local business, the community or shoppers and traffic from holding the procession. (Please also say whether the risk is low, medium or high.)

Taking account of all the information in this table, what is your opinion of the overall risk of holding the procession? Is it low, medium or high?

Section 3

This section details other information which you should consider as part of a general assessment of the procession. You should assess the following.

The main considerations:- supporting comments

At the end of the march, what are your arrangements for getting marchers to go home?

Are you organising any other social events at the end of the march? (Please give details of what these are.) And will you need a police presence?

Is the proposed route shown on your notification as a route that your organisation commonly uses?

Have you taken out insurance to help cover for any risks arising from the procession?

What is your assessment of the risks to marchers if the route passes through communities which may be against the march?

Do you have enough security in place for any coaches and other vehicles used by the marchers?

Have you considered the policing and attendant costs for holding the procession?

Have you assessed what other priorities there may be in the area on the day of the march?

Have you considered the effect on the community as a whole if the march went ahead?

Could you combine this procession with other similar events in the area? If not, why not?

Section 4

Final assessment

If you are holding a meeting, I would like to raise the following points about this risk assessment.
